

Christianity vs. Islam

The

End Time Dialectic Exposed

We live in a world that is full of dichotomies. Everywhere we look we see the duplicitous nature of things in everyday life. We see it in our politics with the bantering back and forth between Democrats and Republicans. We see it in the financial world with the ebb and flow of commerce. We see it in personal relationships in the duality of the sexes; and this theme of duplicity has never been more noticeable than in the religious world, specifically between the two major religions of Christianity and Islam. We also see this two-sided theme in human double-helix DNA, which begs this question: Is this ever-present dichotomy part of the Creator's plan or is it possible that it is a construct in our world that has been manufactured by those who want to mimic the Creator, here on earth? What you will learn in Christianity vs. Islam The End Time Dialectic Exposed will both entertain and shock you and will take your understanding of both God and the world in which you live to new heights. Get ready to learn what the world has never known before and what you will never hear from any other source on the planet.
